promoting the profile of local history
in the nine counties of
ULSTER

Ulster Local History Trust was established in 1980 by the Federation for Ulster Local Studies to promote the profile of local history in the nine counties of Ulster.

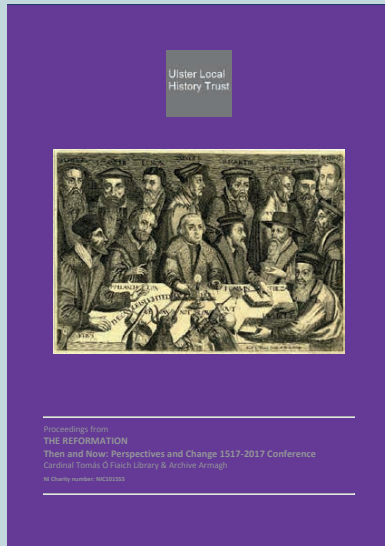

The Trust offers grants to support the publication of local and regional studies and research and provides advice to authors on good practice. Particular attention will be paid to innovation in demonstrating the value of local history to our shared communities.

Grants are generally made to assist authors who wish to publish their work but assistance may also be offered for other platforms – county journals, pamphlets, pageants, video and film, exhibitions, photography, digital work and indexing for publication. It is essential that all work submitted is original and has copyright clearance. Grants are made to applicants resident in the nine counties of Ulster.

Since 2001 Ulster Local History Trust has organised biennial conferences on a range of themes including Migration, the Plantation of Ulster, the Flight of the Earls, the Seventeenth Century Rebellions, the Decade of Centenaries and the Reformation. In most cases, proceedings have been published in hard copy or online.

Ulster Local History Trust has engaged in a number of campaigns to preserve and record the townlands of Ulster.

Since 1990 Ulster Local History Trust has made over 100 grants of various kinds, including:

- Publication of books
- New historical journals
- Photographic exhibitions
- Sculpture
- Photographic archives
- Training workshops

Applications may come from groups or societies or from individuals. A grant application form is available on our website ulht.org.uk
